Workshop on supporting evidence-based Voluntary National Reviews (VNRs)
and SDG reporting: data and statistics innovations
(Egypt VNRs Based on Statistical Data)

As part of its follow-up and review mechanisms, the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development encourages member states to “conduct regular and inclusive reviews of progress at the national and sub-national levels, which are country-led and country-driven” These national reviews are expected to serve as a basis for the regular reviews by countries in regular times. As stipulated in the 2030 Agenda.

These regular reviews should to be voluntary, state-led, undertaken by both developed and developing countries, and involve multiple stakeholders. So (VNRs) aim to facilitate the sharing of experiences, including successes, challenges and lessons learned, with a view to accelerating the implementation of the 2030 Agenda. The VNRs also seek to strengthen policies and institutions of governments and to mobilize multi-stakeholder support and partnerships for the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals.

So Egypt is keen on present Voluntary national review (VNR) to assess progress and focus on challenges in the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) of the 2030 Agenda.

Egypt has already presented (3) Voluntary national review (3VNRs), the first one was in 2018, the second was 2021 and both of these reports was a compiling report for the situation of the whole country, but the third one was a separate report at the level of all the governorates (27 report) in 2022.

The Role of CAPMAS

To ensure a meaningful assessment of progress on the SDGs, reliable data and statistics, CAPMAS is considered one of the most important institutions which the voluntary national Report depends on. To measure the progress made in achieving the goals and highlight development gaps in the governorates.

The Role of CAPMAS

This role sometimes faces many challenges in data collection, disaggregation as well as various human and financial constraints for SDG monitoring overall; So CAPMAS has already started to build the strategy of developing National Statistical System to meet the rapid changes in innovation and data science for accelerate reaching the SDGs and complement national monitoring and review efforts.
