Part I: General comments

In the space below, please provide any general comments, such as about the clarity with which the new recommendations were incorporated. Also, you may wish to comment on whether there is enough cross-referencing to earlier chapters for the basic concepts and definitions used in the supply and use tables (30 words or less).

Comment:

It is a good idea to give the SUT a central place, and most of the explanations are clear, although sometimes lengthy. More diagrams and formulas could accompany the explanations in words – it is sometimes an effort to follow the longer explanations (for example par. 15.127). Part C on use tables mentions the location of the sub-matrices – a diagram showing the location would be helpful.

The chapter could give more weight to the balancing of the SUT, and refer to some common methods used.

Part II: Comments on specific draft paragraphs or passages

In your review of draft chapter 15, you may wish to devote particular attention to the passages listed below. For ease of reference, we have identified the relevant paragraphs. For each passage, a Word table is provided for you to use in making your comments. In most cases, there is a row for general comments at the top of the table. Thereafter please use a separate row for each paragraph on which you wish to make detailed comments.

Goods and services account

As the foundation of the supply and use tables, the goods and services account is discussed in paragraphs 15.7. This account also serves as a preliminary step to the material on the summary measures of the accounts (now in chapter 14, but to be moved in the next version of the full set of chapters where this chapter on the goods and services account and supply and use table will be chapter 14, prices and volumes will be chapter 15 and part of the existing chapter 14 will be described as “Summarising and integrating the accounts” in place of the present title of “Summarising and presenting the accounts”> and will be chapter 16.).

1. Do you find this discussion useful? Is it clear and sufficient?

General comment	Clear
15.10	"Only supply and use.. to ensure the alternative measures.." – isn't there also a measure from the income side?

Goods for processing

The implications of the new treatment for goods sent abroad for processing (and returned from abroad after processing) for the supply and use tables is described in paragraphs 15.32-15.36.

2. Is the discussion of goods for processing clear and sufficient?

General comment	A more complete explanation of registering outsourcing should be given somewhere – will it be given in chapter XX?

Trade and transport margins

The decision on how to record goods for processing has implications for how to record transport margins on such goods. Further, the principles of how to record trade and transports margins within supply and use tables when valuation is at basic prices as compared with purchaser's prices were not elaborated in the 1993 SNA text. Such a clarification is now provided (paragraphs 15.42-15.66)

3. Is the discussion of trade and transport margins clear and sufficient?

General comment	Is a bit long. The text to example 15.2 could be shorter. The paragraphs 15.52 to 15.57 are difficult to follow, and perhaps are not needed.

The supply and use tables in volume terms

Section D.2 provides a general discussion of the supply and use tables in volume terms, covering output, imports and exports, margins, taxes less subsidies on production, and value added.

4. Is the discussion of supply and use tables in volume terms clear and sufficient?

General comment	Clear but sometimes lengthy, and requires an effort to follow all steps.

Additions and deletions to the draft chapter

The chapter aims to give a more comprehensive view of supply and use tables and how they might be used than is found in the 1993 SNA. As explained in the Note by the Editor, new material was added on several aspects.

5. Bearing in mind that input-output tables will be described in a later chapter, are there other aspects of supply and use tables that you feel should be added to the chapter?

Comment:

More on the balancing of SUT.

Table 15.3 of the 1993 SNA shows the cross classification of production account items by industries and institutional sectors. It has been omitted from the draft chapter.

6. Do you see any reason to restore it to the draft?
