New York, 1–5 May 2023

Item 13 of the provisional agenda*

ExonymsList of English names of major geographical features situated in the territory of Poland*Summary*

The list of English names of major geographical features situated in the territory of Poland has been prepared by the Commission on Standardization of Geographical Names outside the Republic of Poland, which is aimed at foreign authors who describe Polish objects in English. The list includes the names of only those objects that are most likely to appear in foreign language publications. The following are the largest features, or those best known for their tourism value and historical significance: voivodeships (provinces), major cities and towns, major historical regions, major landforms (geographical regions), major water features, national parks and other important sites (in total, the names of 126 objects). The list does not include a complete list of features; it is limited primarily to forms that differ in English from their Polish names, which has resulted in a reduction in the number of names of localities.
